

Symposium on Multi-Hazard Engineering

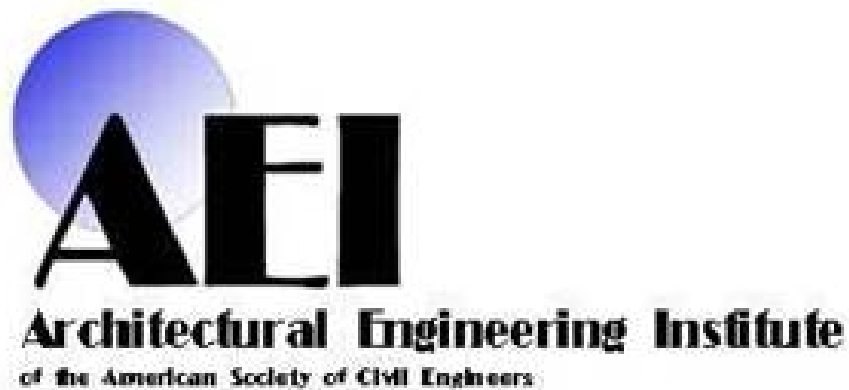

September 18, 2007

Architectural Engineering Institute of the American Society of Civil Engineers

Welcome!

G. Edward Gibson, Jr.
AEI President, 2007

AEI's MISSION

To serve the building community by promoting an integrated, multidisciplinary approach to planning, design, construction, and operation of buildings and by encouraging excellence in practice, education, and research of architectural engineering.

AEI's Membership

	ASCE/AEI
Professional members	4087
Students	3051
Total	7138

MEMBERSHIP AS OF January 2007

Administrative and Technical Committees

Administrative Committees

- Academic Council Ray Yunk
- AE Exam Mark A McAfee
- Continuing Education Mohammed M. Ettouney
- Standards Administrative Oversight Committee Paul Seaburg
- Journal of AE M.K. Parfitt

Technical Committees

- 2008 Conference Mohammed M. Ettouney
- Mitigation on Effects of Terrorism Norman J. Glover
- Architectural Systems Mohammed M. Ettouney
- Curtainwall Systems Ali Memmari
- C2P Standards James Ruggieri
- Task Committee on Building Commissioning Mingsheng Liu
- Committee on Facilities for the Aging Ernest W. Parti
- Task Committee for the Study of Hurricane Katrina's Aftermath Adam Hapij
- Means, Methods, and Trends Adam Hapij

Highlights of AEI's Recent Activities

- Architectural Engineering PE Exam
- Building Security Council Initiative
- Close Interaction with Academic Programs and Students
- Hurricane Katrina Assessment Team

Highlights of AEI's Recent Activities (2)

- 2006 Architectural Engineering Conference
- Symposia on:
 - Curtain walls
 - Security
 - Shelter-in-place
 - Egress
 - Multi-hazard design
- 2008 Architectural Engineering Conference in Denver, September 25-27, 2008